

MAHAN ADMITS
THAT HE KILLED
HIS NIECE ETHEL

Young Man Who Was Arrested Sunday Night for Bennington Crime Made a Written Confession Today to State's Attorney.

SAYS HE WAS DRUNK
WHEN HE DID ACT

He Was Told That Confession Would be Used Against Him But He Insisted That He Wanted to Tell the Whole Story.

Bennington, May 1.—Alfred Mahan has made a written confession that he killed his niece, Ethel Mahan, at North Bennington last Sunday night. He was told that the confession would be used against him and that he need not make it if he didn't care to. But he insisted that he wanted to do so, and when the matter was written out he declared that he felt better than at any time since the murder.

He heads the confession, "I did it," and then goes into the details of the crime, much as the newspaper stories have outlined. He said that he killed the child because he was afraid she would tell her mother of his actions. He said that he used a razor to cut the girl's throat.

Mahan said that he did not commit a criminal assault on the girl but was guilty of indecency. Then he was afraid the girl might tell, so he drew a razor and slashed her throat, carrying the body later to the point where it was found. He said he had no idea of committing a crime when he put the razor in his pocket in the morning. He says he is now broken down with remorse.

When he had concluded his confession he asked for something to eat. He will be arraigned either to-night or to-morrow morning, and will then be held for the grand jury.

Mahan tells of his condition on Sunday night by saying that he went to Walpole, N. Y., the night before and bought a pint of whiskey and a pint of gin. He drank all the whiskey and part of the gin before the crime and says that his mind was in a befuddled condition. After the crime, he continued, he drank the rest of the gin. The confession was signed in the presence of State's Attorney Meagher and Judge E. L. Bates of the municipal court.

The inquest which was started yesterday was in session also today.

AN INQUEST HELD ON MAHAN DEATH

Physicians Say That Criminal Assault Was Not Committed While Child Was Alive.

Bennington, May 1.—An inquest into the death of Ethel Mahan, who was murdered Sunday night, and for whose death her uncle, Alfred Mahan, is in jail, was held yesterday afternoon at the municipal court room before Judge E. L. Bates, State's Attorney Meagher and Attorney General Fiske conducted the case for the state, and a dozen witnesses were examined. The hearing was private.

The witnesses summoned were Thomas Mahan, the father of the man charged with the crime; George Mahan and his wife, Myrtle; Alice Mahan, sister; Albert Hunt, a neighbor; and his wife, George Mattison and Ralph Winslow, who found the razor yesterday near the scene of the crime; Michael Fitzgerald, Drs. Gleason and Chisholm and E. S. Harris.

Drs. Stone, White and Gleason performed an autopsy yesterday. No official announcement of their findings was made and no report will be given out from that source at present. Dr. Stone did, however, state in the hearing of those present at the autopsy that he was convinced that no criminal assault was attempted while she was alive. On her body, however, were the fingerprints of bloody fingers showing a depravity on the part of the murderer that is almost beyond comprehension. The officials walked to the scene of the crime and made an investigation lasting over an hour. When they returned they carried with them small bouquets taken from the stone wall near the base wood tree, under which the murder was evidently committed and also from the gravel pit in which the body of the child was found. The bouquets were taken to the laboratory for chemical analysis.

Mahan is described by people in No. Bennington as a slow-witted young fellow who was never able to acquire much knowledge at school or to become at all adept at his work. He drank to excess at times and belonged to that reckless class of young men who made a practice of frequenting the resorts at Walpole, near from which he was accustomed to return with liquor in his pockets.

BOSTONS MANAGER
TENDERS RESIGNATION

George Huff to Leave The Boston Americans For His Old Position at The University of Illinois.

Boston, May 1.—George H. Huff, who left his post as athletic director at the university of Illinois to become manager of the Boston American baseball team resigned that place today. He will return to the college work at the increased salary. Huff denied last night that he was going back to his former position.

STATEMENT FROM URBANA.
Huff Was Coming Back.

Urbana, Ill., May 1.—Despite vigorous denials from Boston, President Edwin J. James of the university of Illinois, insists that George A. Huff, manager of the Boston American baseball club, has consented to return here and resume his charge of the Illinois athletics. Dr. James yesterday issued a statement that he had succeeded in getting Huff back after strenuous efforts.

On the other hand, Mrs. Huff knows nothing of the matter. President James and Huff were in communication Monday night, and after the conversation the university executive gave out his statement.

Illini, the college daily, yesterday announced Huff's return in leading headlines. "It is sure that Mr. Huff will come back. I don't know when, but as soon as possible." This supplementary statement was made by Dr. James at noon yesterday.

VERMONT STRIKES
ON THIS MAY DAY

Five Hundred Quarrymen in Western Part Went Out as Did Every Plumber and Gas Fitter in Rutland.

Rutland, May 1.—Five hundred quarrymen and mill workers in the western Vermont section struck this morning for a nine-hour day and ten hours pay. The places included are Fair Haven, West Castleton and North Powney. There are no prospects of a settlement. Every plumber and gas fitter in this city struck this morning because their employers said they could not afford to grant the increase of 50 cents a day demanded last March. There are no big jobs affected.

PERHAPS FATALITY HURT.

Joseph Tetoungs Was Driving Horses Which an Auto Struck.

Rutland, May 1.—Joseph Tetoungs, aged 60, employed by M. E. Wheeler as a harness maker, was probably fatally injured in a runaway accident yesterday, the animal taking fright at an automobile on Woodstock avenue.

At the sharp turn into Main street the outfit struck a trolley pole, the wagon being smashed. The horses were not injured. Tetoungs sustained concussion of the brain.

MAN KILLED ON TRACK.

Was Struck By Train at St. Albans This Forenoon—Is Not Known.

St. Albans, May 1.—A man was killed while walking on the Central Vermont track near what is known as the dry bridge by the train from the south at 11:45 o'clock this morning. The man has not yet been identified and all that is known about him was the finding of the name M. Hastings on his hat band.

BETHEL GRANITE.

Practically Decided on For Wisconsin Capitol Building.

Chicago, May 1.—The Wisconsin state commission has practically decided to use Bethel, Vermont, granite in the $6,000,000 capitol building.

"The College Man in Politics."

Burlington, May 1.—Founders' Day is being observed today at the University of Vermont. E. C. Cheney of Morrisville delivered the oration of the day on the subject, "The College Man in Politics."

One of the important features of a minstrel show is the always welcome monologue, when it is good. With the DeRue Bros' Ideal Minstrel this monologue by Billy DeRue is one of the best acts. He has the faculty of keeping his audience in a continuous uproar of laughter from the start, for he is one of the funniest comedians known in the minstrel world to-day. It is from his ease of delivery that he was justly named the "talkative man." He always has a large collection of up-to-date jokes and songs, many of which are his own composition. A large publishing house in New York city recently made arrangements for Billy to write special songs and jokes, and some of his productions are the comedy hits of the season. DeRue Bros. appear for one night only at the opera house, on next Tuesday evening.

Among the arrivals at the City hotel today are J. L. Fulton, White River Junction; George F. Taylor, Albany, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Fowler, Worcester, Mass.; G. E. Mason, Randolph; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tarbox, Newbury.

All members of the Barre council, Knights of Columbus who are interested in forming a base ball team will meet at the club room this evening at 7:30 o'clock. All candidates for the team will meet at 4:45 for practice. Per order manager.

FIVE DAYS IN THE EARTH

Seven Entombed Miners Are Brought to Surface Today

AND ALL WILL RECOVER

Were Caught in Mine at Tontwell Last Friday—People Were Frantic With Joy When They Were Reached Last Night.

Johnstown, Pa., May 1.—At 1:15 this morning the seven imprisoned miners were taken from the mine at Foustwell, and ten minutes later had been placed aboard a special train, composed of an engine and a box car, and started for the hospital at Windber. At the hospital they were put to bed and given liquid nourishment. All are doing well. It is said that a day or two in the hospital will put them in good shape. They were imprisoned last Friday. "Hell itself can offer no greater torments than the torments we endured in that heading," said Mike Bala, foreman of the rescued miners, "a tomb would be paradise beside it. I do not see how one of us escaped with our mind unaffected. Our experience was worse than that of Hicks, the California miner, for we had constantly before us the possibility that we might be forced to turn cannibals, in the hope that some might be saved from starvation."

SEVEN MEN IN MINE
REACHED LAST NIGHT

Had Been Entombed Since Last Friday and Many Believed That They Had Perished.

Johnstown, Pa., May 1.—After being entombed since last Friday noon in the Foustwell Coal company mine at Foustwell, the seven miners, who were shut off from the world by a sudden rush of water caused by the breaking of a wall of an abandoned mine, were reached by rescuers late last night.

Never in the history of the mining region has such a joyous scene been witnessed as when the unfortunate men were reached alive. Hundreds of persons who gathered about watching the work of rescue, cheered, laughed and cried. Many believed the men had perished.

How Rescue Was Affected.
The men were reached at ten o'clock by Stacey Roden and Charles Ream, who made a dash through fifty feet of water-filled headings.

Earlier in the day, John Boyla, brother of one of the imprisoned men, and three comrades made a futile attempt to reach the imprisoned men. These rescuers came back half drowned and reported that portions of the heading were still completely filled with water, and that more pumping would have to be done before the unfortunate prisoners could be reached. The efforts at pumping were then redoubled. At 10 o'clock the water had so far gone down that it was resolved to make one more attempt to break through the water-filled heading.

Stacey Roden and Charles Ream volunteered for the service. Like the party that set forth earlier in the day, they left the pumping crew and plunged into the water and darkness. Over an hour elapsed before the men were heard from and then Ream came swimming back through the heading, bringing the first news from the imprisoned men. He reported that the seven men were alive and all in good shape, but that until more pumping was done the passage to the place where they were trapped was impassable to those who could not swim.

When the news was received that the seven men were alive, it was resolved to allow them to remain where they were until the heading had been pumped out. Ream and his comrades carried to the imprisoned men simply a flask of brandy and a little water. He reported Mike Boyla had, since the breaking of the walls between the abandoned workings, been in charge of the movements of his comrades.

Boyla, who is a mine contractor, was acquainted with every turn of the work. When the flood broke out, according to the story he told Ream, he led his comrades to the highest point in the heading where the "overcast" was situated. Under Boyla's direction, each man, before being rescued, seized his lunch basket. When they arrived at the "overcast," every lamp but one was extinguished, and one by one the lamps were each burned out, until, when they were reached by Roden and Ream, there was but a single light remaining, and this in danger of running low.

When stock was taken of the available supply of provisions it was found that three baskets were but half emptied. This scanty store of rations was husbanded until Monday morning, since when the men had nothing to eat. During the whole time they were imprisoned they had gone without water, fearing to drink the water from the abandoned workings. Ream said that at the place where the men had sought refuge there had been a supply of ties left for track-laying purposes. With these Boyla and his comrades had built a platform upon which they had found safety from the flood.

75 GALLONS OF SAP.

Cayendish Man Got That Amount From Two Trees.

Chester, May 1.—J. A. Spaulding of Cayendish gathered 75 gallons of sap from two trees at one gathering. On one tree there were 33 buckets into which the sap ran fast. On nine trees there were 12 buckets and from these trees 125 gallons of sap was taken at one gathering. Mr. Spaulding says it has been the best sugar season with him in 30 years.

TRUSTY MAKES HIS ESCAPE.

Wilbur Brown Hikes Away From Year More at State Prison.

Windsor, May 1.—Wilbur Brown, committed to the state prison from Orleans county to serve a two years' sentence for grand larceny, made his escape yesterday afternoon and is still at liberty. He had about a year more to serve on his sentence. He was working under a guard building shed about a half mile west of the prison. When quaking time came at five o'clock he hiked it for the underbrush and disappeared while the guard was calling the team to take the three back. The guard was D. V. Sullivan and has been employed here about a year.

Brown was 33 years old, 5 feet, 14 inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, blue eyes, light complexion and stoops slightly.

VERMONT'S FIRST VICTORY

Defeated Colby College, 6 to 0—Whitney Pitched Well.

Burlington, May 1.—The first game of college base ball was played here yesterday afternoon on the varsity field, when Vermont shut out Colby, 6 to 0. The local players put the game in their hands the first inning when long hits were bunched for two earned runs and two wild pegs from short handed Vermont won two more tallies. Captain Whitney pitched great ball, allowing the Maine boys but two hits and not one of the visitors saw third base. The game was played in a driving rain and was called after the first half of the eighth on account of the storm.

"JIM" WARNER SIGNS WITH INTERCITY

Popular Player on Last Year's Team Wires This Afternoon That He Will Come On.

Pitcher "Jim" Warner, one of the pitchers on the Intercity base ball team last summer, wired Charles Wishart this afternoon that he would play ball with the same team this summer on the terms advanced. Mr. Wishart wired back for him to report at once.

There are now six players in Montpelier, and they will probably have the first practice on the Montpelier seminary grounds this afternoon. The others will probably arrive the latter part of the week. By tomorrow they may be able to get to work on the Intercity grounds.

GIVE PLAY AT MAY PARTY.

Miss Carlotta Hopkins Acts as Queen at West Brattleboro Affair.

Brattleboro, May 1.—The first May party of the season was given at West Brattleboro last evening, when 13 young women, teachers and students at the West Brattleboro academy, presented "Breezy Point." The play, a three-act affair, was well done.

The feature of the entertainment was the May booth with the old-fashioned May pole in flowers, at which Miss Carlotta Hopkins acted as Queen of the May.

The proceeds will be used to defray the expenses of the annual speaking at the academy for the prizes given by Judge E. W. Gibson of Brattleboro.

A PECULIAR SUIT
TRIED YESTERDAY

Frank C. Davis of Royalton Ordered to Pay Note Which He Gave to Help

Pay for Injuries to a Bicycle Rider.

Chelsoe, May 1.—At the annual fair of the Union Agricultural society of Tunbridge in 1897, Clyde Benedict of East Bethel, one of the contestants in a bicycle race, ran into a team that was on the track and was injured. He brought suit against the society and obtained a judgment to recover damages not exceeding $3,000. Today there will be 11 licensed places with a possibility of 12 selling liquor in this city, when the law provides for only eight. This anomaly is caused by the wording of the licenses, from May 1 to May 1 inclusive, which permits those who failed to get new licenses to sell on the first day of the new license year. Tomorrow, the number will drop back to eight. The friction existing among the members of the license board is made apparent in looking over the signatures of the commissioners as they appear on the licenses. Mr. Discol, the third commissioner, signed four of the eight licenses, those of C. W. Reagan and Henry A. Dunbar of the first class, and the druggist licenses of J. E. Welch & Co., and Charles D. Leary. The licenses were yesterday furnished by the commissioners, with printed lists of those to whom they are forbidden to sell.

ONE LICENSE TOWN.

Shelburne The Only Place in Chittenden County.

Burlington, May 1.—A license for the sale of intoxicating liquor will not be granted in the little town of St. George this year although the town voted for license at the last March meeting. All three of the applications, each of which was for license of the second class, have been dismissed, owing to the fact that the bondsmen furnished did not conform to the requirements of the statute.

The hearings on the applications were held Monday afternoon. The three applicants were Messrs. Sutton, Isham and Chase. The statute requires that the two bondsmen who act as surety for the licensee shall be real estate owners in the town where licenses are granted. Of the bondsmen of the three applicants only one for each was a local real estate owner. Two of the other three offered were non-residents and the remaining one was a woman. The three applications were therefore turned down and St. George with its 90 inhabitants and thirty odd voters will be left, leaving Shelburne the only town in Chittenden county where liquor as a beverage may be purchased legally. So long St. George.

MAN AND WIFE ARRESTED.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cocchi are Charged With Breach of the Peace.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cocchi were arrested this afternoon by officer Carle on a warrant by Grand Juror Davis charging them with breach of the peace.

They were brought before Judge Scott in city court and pleaded not guilty and the hearing was continued until tomorrow morning.

They were released on their own recognizance.

The Spaulding high school base ball team plays Winooski high on the trotting park, Thursday afternoon, at 5:30.

SUNDAY SALES
DEBARRED

Hotels Agree Not to Serve Liquor on Sunday

BUT TWO SALOONS OPENED

Other Six Licensees Were Not Ready to Start on the First Day of May—Barre Town Licensees Ran Out Last Night.

Only two of Barre's eight licensed places opened up for business this morning, Alexander & Mackie and J. B. Sanguinetti, both first class licensees. None of the other places was in readiness or had received its goods. Alexander & Mackie in the Scamplin block opened up at 7 o'clock. Tom Kesson is head bartender and he is to be assisted by Harry Brooks, formerly at The Pavilion, Montpelier. At J. B. Sanguinetti's in the Northern hotel, Alex. Coutts and Larry McMahon are the bartenders. John Marr expects to open his bar in the Tomasi block tomorrow morning with Jack Cayhew as head and Andrew Guthrie, bartenders. The City hotel bar will not be open for several days. Two of the second class places expect to be doing business tomorrow.

Through a conference of the license commissioners with the proprietors of the two hotels an agreement has been reached by which neither of them will serve liquors of any kind in rooms or on tables on Sundays. This will do away with a feature that was always objected to when licenses were in force in Barre before, and the license commissioners are to be commended in bringing about such an arrangement this year.

The Barre town saloons closed for the year last night.

DECISION PROMISED SOON.

On Application of Frank M. Brown For Wholesale License.

At the conclusion of the hearing on the application of Frank M. Brown of this city for a wholesale liquor license, Secretary of State F. G. Fleetwood, before whom the hearing was held at the city hall, took the matter under advisement and announced that he would give a decision in a short time.

LICENSES IN ST. ALBANS.

Seven Were Paid For Yesterday and Taken Out.

St. Albans, May 1.—Seven of the eight liquor licenses, recently granted, were yesterday paid for and taken out by the licensees. Mr. Spencer, who holds a first class license for the Park View hotel, is not ready to open. The second class license granted to N. F. Clarke will be operated temporarily beginning today in the Barnes block on Lake street. It will later be changed to the store now occupied by N. E. Lynde. Today there will be 11 licensed places with a possibility of 12 selling liquor in this city, when the law provides for only eight. This anomaly is caused by the wording of the licenses, from May 1 to May 1 inclusive, which permits those who failed to get new licenses to sell on the first day of the new license year. GOULD WINS AGAIN.

Defeated V. H. Pennell in Final Round, Court Tennis.

London, May 1.—Jay Gould, the American champion, to-day defeated V. H. Pennell in the final round of English court tennis for the championship in three straight sets. He will now meet Eustace H. Miles for the title.

WANT TO CLOSE
PEARL STREET

While the Guinberg Building Is Being Erected—Matter Left With Mayor and City Attorney.

The resignation of Dr. G. W. Miller as city physician was received by the city council in special session last evening. Dr. Miller stated in his letter that his action was not due to any displeasure of his treatment as an official but because his plans had been changed during the past few days, whereby he was to leave the city. He has served nearly two years in that capacity.

Dr. Miller stated that he had asked Dr. Duffy to respond to whatever demands would fall upon the city physician until his successor was chosen, and suggested that Mr. Duffy would make a good man for the place anyway. The resignation was accepted.

The meeting was called primarily because the street committee didn't feel they had the right to close Pearl street for the benefit of the contractor who is building the Guinberg building at the corner of North Main street. They said that they had already given the contractor, W. E. Jackson, three and one-half feet of the street. Alderman Thurston was inclined to believe that the city council didn't have the right to close the entire street for that purpose. As an off-hand opinion the city attorney thought the same. Alderman Thurston and Campbell reports that Mr. Jackson had told them he could get along without taking the whole width of the street but that it would be dollars out of his pocket if he didn't have the whole width. The mayor and the city attorney were given final authority by the council.

ELLIS-GILMAN.

Northfield Man Takes Brattleboro Girl as His Bride.

Brattleboro, May 1.—The marriage of Miss Beryl Gilman of this town to Irving C. Ellis of Northfield, occurred at noon yesterday at the home of the bride's parents at 15 Green street. About 30 guests were present, including friends from Northfield, Wells River, Gardner, South college and Boston. The Rev. Dr. Walter Dole of Northfield performed the ceremony.

Miss Adine Hale of Wells River sang DeKoven's "O Promise Me." Miss Anna Gilman, sister of the bride, playing the accompaniment. Master Freeman Hawley of Gardner carried the wedding rings in a basket of lilies of the valley. The bride wore white net over white silk trimmed with baby Irish lace and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Ellis left for a wedding trip of three weeks. They will live in Northfield. Mr. Ellis is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ellis of Northfield and is treasurer of the E. B. Ellis Granite company. He is a graduate of Norwich university 1901.

Mrs. Ellis is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Gilman and is a graduate of the Brattleboro high school, 1901. Since her graduation she has studied music in Brattleboro and Springfield, Mass.

ENTERTAINED "THE RIVALS."

Civic Federation Show Appreciation of Work of Amateur Actors.

At the quarterly meeting of the Civic Federation which was held in the Vincetta club parlors last evening, an adjournment was made until Friday, May 3rd at three o'clock p. m., in the library room.

The informal reception, or social, which followed, at which the cast of "The Rivals" were the guests, was given with the spirit of an appreciation of their work for the Federation.

A piano duet by Mrs. Hollister and Mrs. Ballard, a reading by Miss Dix, and vocal solos by Miss Maud Harris, with selections from the Mandolin club, and Miss Eastman, Mrs. Lang and Miss Thompson, completed the program. Punch, with its accompaniments, was served by the members of the Gleaner's club.
